3(i) Sarah Douglas from Red Kite Environment who is undertaking Chepstow Castle's Heritage Interpretation Project

Sarah Douglas outlined the Chepstow Castle's Heritage Interpretation Project as follows and responded to Members questions:

- Cadw are planning new interpretation for Chepstow Castle.
- Cadw has let a contract to Fielder Green Associates, a consultancy specialising in heritage tourism, to undertake a programme of work at Chepstow Castle over the next 12 months. There are 7 persons in the team.
- Arthur Fielder is the project manager and there are two teams working for him, a creative team and an interpretive team.
- The creative team includes designers who specialise in animation and video production, graphic design, illustration, 3D graphics and sculpture.
- The interpretive team includes interpretive planners and writers, historians, and a community engagement worker.
- There are three phases of work to be completed by May 2022.
 - The research, preparation and agreement of an Interpretation and Media plan for Chepstow Castle is the first phase of the work and the plan will guide the development of the interpretive media that will be installed in the castle. Ruth Taylor Davies is writing the plan and Sarah will be helping Ruth by consulting with local organisations about the history of Chepstow and the castle and exploring ways local communities can be involved in the interpretation plan. A digital survey could be run to find out what local people think are the main stories to be told about the castle and what kind of media they like to use when they are visiting a heritage site. The aim is to complete the plan and community engagement work by October 2021.
 - The research, origination and fabrication of a range of interpretive media in the castle will follow the recommendations in the Chepstow Castle Interpretation and Media Plan. This phase and will start with concept design development which, when approved, will be followed by detailed design of all media.
 - Production and Installation. Production will take place over a 4-month period starting Autumn 21. Installation will take place early spring 2022.
- The interpretation plan is a critical document as it guides the development of all the media.
- Members were requested what important stories they wanted to be told to visitors about the castle and its impact on the town of Chepstow.
- Reference was made to the Chepstow Place Plan, that could link with the proposed new Interpretation at the Castle.
- Ideas for the Dell.
- Walking routes that include the Castle.
